by Becker Healthcare Review for the third consecutive year. Hospitals on this list are renowned for excellence and recognized for their efforts focused on increasing the quality of healthcare provided, reducing the cost of healthcare and proactively improving the overall health of the people served.

New in Telecommunications

Effective October 17, we are partnering with St. Joseph's Hospital to offer access to medical expertise in Rheumatology utilizing telecommunications technology. A telemedicine appointment uses technology to create an experience very similar to an in-person visit. It also allows healthcare professionals to evaluate, diagnose and treat patients in remote locations using live, person-to-person telecommunications technology.

Dr. Ruthie Chua, MD is Certified in Internal Medicine and Rheumatology. Contact your healthcare provider to learn more about the referral process for telehealth.
